Accommodations	Exchange students are required to live on campus. Spaces are reserved for exchange students and exchange students must sign a contract. After official acceptance, exchange students will be given information on how to sign this contract online. Typically, exchange students are housed in White Hall in the West End Neighborhood, which was renovated in 2018. Students are housed in double rooms with an American roommate. To view information about housing at ECU, please visit www.ecu.edu/campusliving
Dining & Meal Plans	Meal plans are required for students who live on campus. Students will have unlimited access to the two dining halls on campus during business operations. There are several food places on campus where you can use your meal plan. To view more information about food options or meal plans, please go to www.dining.ecu.edu
Visa & Immigration	Exchange students will attend ECU on a J-1 exchange visa. Upon acceptance into ECU, students will receive a DS-2019 and official acceptance letter. Upon receipt, students will need to pay the SEVIS Fee and schedule an appointment with the closest US Embassy or Consulate.
Health Insurance & Immunizations	The J-1 visa requires that you have minimum health insurance premiums. Proof of insurance will be required upon arrival. If insurance policy does not meet the minimum requirement, you can purchase and enroll into an appropriate plan approved by the UNC System. The State of North Carolina requires that all students have specific immunizations. You can view immunization requirements on the North Carolina State Law Immunizations Requirements website. The TB test has to be administered in North America. During orientation, students will receive the TB test as well as any other missing immunizations.
Orientation and arrival	New international students must attend orientation. Orientation is held the week before classes and specific information will be detailed in your acceptance letter. Transportation from the airport is provided on specific dates. Depending on the airport, there may be a fee associated with it. Information will be included upon acceptance.
First Friends Program	Our office organizes a peer mentoring program for international students. Domestic students volunteer to be matched up with an international student and act as their “first friend.” We strive to match students up within a few weeks of the start of the semester. More information can be found on our First Friends Website .
